

How Much Are You Obligated to Pay in Response to the Statement?

- For weeks of benefits from March 15, 2020 through December 26, 2020, if the claimant's unemployment was due directly or indirectly to COVID-19, pay $0. (In essence, of the amount stated in the Total Benefits Paid ($) column of the Statement, 50% is reduced by way of Section 1502.4 of the UI Act and 50% is reduced by way of the Federal reimbursement under the CARES Act.)
- For weeks of benefits from March 15, 2020 through December 26, 2020 that you are protesting and are contending are non-COVID-related, first look at the Your Charge % column in the Statement. If the percentage stated in the column is 50% or less, pay the full amount stated in the Your Share ($) column of the Statement. If the percentage stated in the Your Share % column is greater than 50%, pay 50% of the amount stated in Total Benefits Paid ($) column. (In essence, of the amount stated in the Total Benefits Paid ($) column of the Statement, 50% is reduced by way of the Federal CARES Act.) If you protest an amount due and prevail with your protest, you will see adjustments or cancellations in a later quarter's Statement.
- For weeks of benefits outside the period of March 15, 2020 through December 26, 2020, you must pay the full amount stated in the Your Share ($) column of the Statement, even if you are protesting the amounts due. If you prevail in a protest, you will see adjustments or cancellations in a later quarter's Statement.

Your payment must be made no later than the payment due date that appears on this Statement, which is 30 days from the mailing/posting date of the Statement. Interest accrues on any sums not paid by the due date, at a rate of 2% per month.